JK Personal and Professional Development (JKPPD) partners with organizations to increase retention and reduce turnover through strategic learning, coaching, and change management strategies to create a high-performance learning and employee-oriented culture. JKPPD's development strategies and methodologies prepare individuals and organizations in transforming their lives, careers, and company through strategic personal and professional development workshops and coaching. We offer best practices in change management, effective personal and professional development strategies, as well as leadership training and mentoring. Our motto is to "Think Like a Client and Act as a Guide." Clients are our priority. Communication, visioning, strategic planning, goal setting, goal achievements, and delegating effectively are what we strive for to service clients. Programs are customized according to individual and organizational needs.

"Think like a client, act like a guide."

Our Mission is to provide a mutually supportive and positive learning environment in which clients can develop personal and professional communication, interpersonal skills, transformational skills, and leadership skills, which in turn foster self-confidence, personal growth, and the motivation and courage to transform. We partner with individuals and businesses to take the development of leaders and employees to the next level by emphasizing the combination of soft skills (people skills), change management, coaching, leadership effectiveness, and agility to drive business results.

JKPPD collaborates with companies globally to create a holistic learning culture by embracing and adopting the people-side of change to transform leaders' and employees' attitudes, behaviors, and communication to build a positive, productive, and profitable organization.
